The image features a central light green background with numerous white doves in flight, scattered across the scene. The doves are depicted in various stages of flight, with wings spread wide. The entire composition is framed by a dark, textured border at the top and bottom, which appears to be made of layered, organic-looking material in shades of purple, red, and black. The text "EVERY MEMBER IS A MINISTER" is centered horizontally across the middle of the image in a bold, black, serif font.
